A. N. GREEN HOME FOR WEEK END FROM AUSTIN

A. N. Green, Representative to the Texas Legislature, is home for the week end.

Mr. Green recently secured enactment of a law which permits cashing of the last pension check mailed out to deceased aged persons.

In the past a check mailed out to an aged person who passed away before receipt of check, had to be mailed back. No one except the person to whom the check was drawn could indorse it. Now the law permits that last check to be cashed. Mr. Green is the author of this bill.

Mr. Green also obtained passage of a law fixing a common filing date for all candidates for state office which is the third Monday in May in advance of the old law.

Buckholts Boy Who Fought Japs On Guadalcanal Pays Respects to Strikers In Letter To Mother; Saw Marvin Mode Killed Trying to Save Marine

DAY BY DAY

Things We Want To Say

To The Herald:

John L. Lewis and his striking miners should not be allowed to get away with it! Punishment, swift and sure should be meted out to them. No "face-saving" compromise should be countenanced for one moment. The time has long since passed to pet and pamper this crowd of trouble makers and malcontents. The rod has already been spared too many times. They have been willing to take advantage of America's dire hour of extremity to hold the cruel dagger of greed and self-aggrandizement at her already bleeding throat. While our soldiers sailors and marines are dying, while wives are praying for the safety of their soldier husbands and brothers, while mothers are weeping for sons killed in action, while every household in our land is tightening up its belt and making daily sacrifices in this battle for our existence, John L. Lewis and his misguided satellites are laying down on their jobs, and are defying the president and refusing to abide by the fair processess of the law,—the very law, which in the first instance, protects them and their household in their chosen fields of labor.

What strange nectar do these gods feed upon that causes them for one second to think that their puny Union of 450,000 or more members, can blatantly and boldly defy our constiution and laws and the great body of 130 million common American citizens?

They have proven themselves deserters from the cause of their country's freedom. They have cast their arms and their armor aside, and sulked and skulked away from the battle front. They have refused to even hold the line until re-inforcements can come up. They won't abide by the rules of the game. They are not sportsmen. They are Unamerican.

A simple soldier who deserts in the time of battle, forfeits his life. Why should these "Unioneer" deserters go unwhipped of punishment?

On one occasion, the late Senator Joseph Weldon Bailey, was asked if, on account of certain politicial happenings, he was going to quit the Democratic party. His reply was: "Emphatically, no; if my house was infested with rats, I wouldn's burn up the house, I would get shed of the rats."

Yours truly,
A. J. LEWIS.

Here's a letter from Buford McCrummen of Buckholts. He went in with the Marines on Guadalcanal. They left the island when there were no more Japs to kill.

McCrummen wrote this letter to his mother, Mrs. Mable McCrummen He saw Marvin Mode killed trying to save the life of a wounded Marine What he says about strikes and strikers should be a warning to the politi cians for some day he and all like him are coming back home. The letter:

"I received your letter today. Was glad to hear everyone is well. I am doing fine and feeling much better since I am off Guadalcanal. There are no Japs left there.

"It was a terrible shock to Mrs. Mode to learn of her son's death. It was a shock to every man in his company. I will never forget the day Marvin was killed, trying to save a Marine who was wounded. He will always be remembered as a faithful man to his country and his Corps.

"I hope the war will be over soon, mother, The people do not really know what war is at home. You should see the country that has felt the horror of war; they are the peo ple who are all out for the war.

"How do you think the boys over seas feel when they hear that workers who are turning out war material have gone out on a strike. They are getting good money, but are taking advantage of the government. They ought to hang every striker. I would gladly stick a knife through their heart and still have a clear conscience. That's how we boys feel when we hear something like that. We are giving our lives for freedom. Surely they should be glad to work for a de cent wage.

"I am proud of you mother and I know you are proud to have your sons doing their bit in the army, navy, marines. I am glad Clifford is going. It will make two in the Navy, two in the Army. I am still alone in the Marines. But I still like it fine Well take care of yourself mother Give my regards to Mrs. Mode."

SGT. EDWARD J. SLOVAK

Sgt. Edward J. Slovak, United States Army Air Corps, has been in Australia for some time. Like many other patriotic Milam county boys he enlisted the day after the Japs attack Pearl Harbor.

He spent his early months in training at Sheppard Field, Texas, at Wichita Falls. He is attached to the Quarter Master Corps and within a short time was in Australia, landing there with some early units of the American expeditionary forces.

In a letter to his father John Slovak he told of a long visit with the late Sgt. John Wallace whom he met about a month before Sgt. Wallace lost his life in battle over Japanese lines. They talked for about an hour, he said.

Sgt. Slovak was born in Fayette county but moved to North Elm community with his family. He graduated from Yoe High School in the class of 1938. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Slovak of North Elm.

Wounded in Africa

SGT. RUDOLPH BALUSEK

Sgt. Rudolph Balusek was inducted into the armed forces on February 7, 1942. He spent his first 8 days of army life at Fort Bliss, and then received his first training at Fort Knox, Kentucky, where he was stationed for several months. While at Fort Knox, his division went on manuevers and were away from camp three months. They were maneuvering through Louisiana, North and South Carolina and several different states.

He was given one furough from Ft. Knox and came home to spend a few days with relatives and friends during the Christmas holidays. This was the only furlough he received before going across.

He was sent to England for a while, then was sent to Ireland and later was shipped to Northwest Africa where he was seriously wounded in action on November 28, 1942. Word was received here by his brothers on January 7, 1943. Later a telegram was received from Washington that he was in serious condition, but was normally improving.

Sgt. Rudolph Balusek was with the Tank Destroyer Division and went across in May 1942. Mail had been received from him regularly before he was wounded. At the present, Sgt. Balusek is in an English hospital and writes that he is doing fine. He is one of the five Balusek brothers who live at Marak and operate a farm.

INVASION BOOST GIVES MUSSOLINI BAD JITTERS

Fear swept Italy Tuesday as Mussolini made a direct appeal to Hitler for aid against what the Axis leaders believe will be an early invasion of Italy.

If the invasion comes it was speculated it might be by an attack on Sicily and Sardinia. Winston Church ill refered to the possibility of an attack through Italy as getting at the soft, under beily of the Axis beast.

The Americans have broken through the German lines to isolate a large body of enemy troops fighting the British and are now within sight of Bizerte which may come under seige of artillery by night fall.

Germans have been ordered to die figthing and to refuse surrender under any circumstance.

The battle between Germany and the Caucasus was in full swing again. There is also heavy air activity in Russia.

MINERS GOING BACK TO WORK IN COAL PITS

Coal miners were going back to work in American pits Monday under a 15 day truce negotiated by Harold Ickes, Secretary of the Interior, with John L. Lewis head of the Mine Workers Union.

President Roosevelt in an address Sunday night appealed to the miners to return to work for their government. He said the miners would have to return under the old contract, that any adjustments made would have to be submitted to the Labor Board.

The President said that the coal mines will be kept open.

Shortly before the President began his address, John L. Lewis announced the miners would go back to work under a truce pending negotiation of a new contract.

It was generally felt that the miners would get their increase of $2 per day plus other benefits and John L. Lewis would win his case.

FARMERS PLEDGE MORE FOOD AS WAR GOAL

"Selective service" is the order of the day for American farms in 1942. With a war-time demand for more than they can produce, farmers are being asked to concentrate limited lands, labor and machinery on the production of foods that will help to win the war and write the peace.

The national goals for 1943, as compared to 1942, are as follows:

MORE WANTED:

Milk—122 million pounds, 2 million more than in 1942 production.

Eggs—400 million dozen, about 8 per cent more than called for in 1942.

Meat—The goals call for 18 per cent more pork, 13 per cent more beef and veal, 5 per cent more lamb and mutton, and 28 per cent more chicken for meat than in 1942.

Corn—95 million acres or 4 per cent more than 1942.

Hemp—300,000 acres for fibre, compared to 30,000 acres for seed last year.

Dry Beans—An 18 per cent increase over reported 1942 acreage of all types.

Peanuts—20 per cent larger acreage of peanuts for oil than planted in 1942.

Other Crops—More rice, barley rye, potatoes, hay.

NO CHANGE IN GOALS:

Soybeans, flaxseed, dry peas, tobacco, sugar-beets.

LESS NEEDED:

POLITICAL MIRACLE MAY SAVE ALL FACES

Some 400,000 of the nation's soft coal miners will go out on strike at midnight Friday unless John L. Lewis calls upon them to go back to work.

In Washington President Roosevelt and John L. Lewis were in their corners and the referee, the American people, were edging forward in their seats to see the first blow landed.

Lewis has a personal grudge against Roosevelt and indicated were he would defy the administration on his demand for a $2 a day increase in the wages of miners and would do nothing to stop the strikes unless union demands were met.

In Lewis' corner were Phillip Murray of the C. I. O. and William Green of the American Federation of Labor. In the Roosevelt corner were several unidentified members of the Brain Trust.

Thursday Mr. Murray and Mr. Green issued a joint manifesto charging the government is using two-faced policy over inflation by freezing wages and letting commodity prices soar. Commentators said Mr. Roosevelt had already stated his position to be exactly what Green, Lewis and Murray now say.

If it develops that the fight turns out to be an adroit political move both fighters may get out of the ring with split trunks and very little resin on their feet. The crowd will go home wondering.

Miners are apt to get their increase. Inefficient OPA administrators are charged with failure to carry out the President's orders. The President can do a little shadow boxing behind this confusion of charges, wages are increased or equal in benefits are handed out and everybody's face is saved.

There will be no way to recapture the man hours lost through the strikes.

Clinched fists have been noted in any number of such disputes with the White House but no blow has been struck as yet. Out on the west coast in the early stages of the Communist run in the plane plants, one irate American soldier stuck a bayonet in Hitler's pin cushion and it was so widely appreciated the wound was photographed and published in the magazines.

Meanwhile there is a war on and men are dieing on aother front. The Washington front was less bloody but more annoying.

The Allies are edging forward on all fronts and have thrown back the Germans with heavy losses in Tunisia. In air battles 14 planes of the enemy were shot down and the Allies lost 10.

In Russia the official Red Army paper, Red Star, predicted decisive battles in Russia soon.

During the past 3 days bond buying in the city had tapered off considerably but substantial amounts were being taken. On Monday $2450 were purchased and on Tuesday $2067.97 while on Wednesday $9,250 was reported.

Where Will Money Come From?

People ask: "Where will the money come from?" to reach the thirteen-billion dollar objective of the Second War Loan. The answer is simple. The people HAVE the income.

When we produce munitions or peacetime goods, or anything else, we likewise produce income. For every dollar of production, there is a dollar of income.

The problem of war finance boils down to this—if individuals and businesses receive more income after taxes than there are things produced for them to buy, then excess funds arise. The government deficit is matched by the combined surplus of everybody else. This surplus should be put into Government securities to wipe out that deficit.

They give their lives . . . You lend your money.

JOHN L. LEWIS MAY WIN IN COAL STRIKE

MINERS PAY ALREADY INCREASED BY ICKES

Coal miners were well on their way to victory in the dispute with employers and the government Tuesday as a new pay schedule was announced.

While nothing definite has been done to indicate the exact amount the miners will get, they were certain to profit largely by their strike. It's good business.

Harold Ickes, Secretary of the Interior, had announced a six day week with time and a half for over time. This should bring the overage earning to more than $8 per day. The miners are also to be paid for their time in going to and from the mines.

Members of the War Labor Board threatened to resign if the board is by-passed in this case. John L. Lewis said he would ignore the board and deal directly with Mr. Ickes. This will please Mr. Ickes very much and the War Labor Board will become a wall flower in Washington as so many boards have become in recent months.

President Roosevelt indicated in his address on Sunday night that he would insist on the Board handling the dispute.

It was predicted here the miners would win. Within a short time another demand will be made and again they will win. There is no effective defense against a political power so active as Organized Labor.

It would not be surprising if the government did not become the great employer in all industry and out of the treasury come the wage benefits envisioned by the More Abundant Life view.

CANNING PLANT WILL BE SOUGHT FOR CITY

Plans for a centrally located canning plant were approved by the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night

According to J. Albert Young chairman of the Civic Improvement Committee, the project will be put in service May 10th, and will continue tn operation for approximately ninety days.

The purpose of the project is to furnish facilities to the citizens of Cameron to can the surplus vegetables raised in Victory Gardens. As outlined, the program will furnish utiii ties, equipment and a qualified supervisor or instructor to direct the work in a down-town building.

Its facilities will be available to the public free of charge.

Plans were announced by Albert W. McCullin, chairman of the Membership and Finance Committee for a membership drive to the launched Monday, May 10th. The Chamber of Commerce has found itself in an embarrassing position due to a very restricted budget.

The board of directors adopted a recommendation of the Membership and Finance Committee, to establish a minimum membership fee of one dollar a month. Contributions of less than a dollar a month will still be solicited as the need for financial support is urgent, but those contributing less than the dollar a month will not be entitled to a vote.

It was also pointed out that firms contributing more than that amount will be entitled to a vote for each twelve dollars per year of their contribution, thus encouraging the large subscribers to increase their subscription.

What Is Inflation?

Do you have excess cash? You will answer, "No." But the fact remains that you do. For almost every wage earner these days has an income, in checkbook or pocketbook, well above the cost of his living, taxes, insurance and debt repayments.

You never actually "bid" against anybody for a porterhouse steak, but when you take the spending of all average Americans as a group, it's a different story. So it is important that excess money be saved rather than used collectively to bid up prices. If it is spent, instead of saved, prices soar. . . That's inflation.

Ideally, it should be invested in Government securities during the Second War Loan.

FARM CERTIFICATES TO REWARD PRODUCTION

College Station.—Certifications of enlistment for all-out food production will be awarded Texas farm families who have enlisted in this year's Food for Freedom program.

The 11x14 inch certificate, which has been signed by Secretary of Agriculture Claude Wickard, will be presented to farm families by local county USDA war boards after the compleation of the 1943 farm sign-up campaign.

The 1943 farm plan, which Texas farmers and ranchers now are filling out in all section of the state, will be the basis for making the award. This drive, aimed at obtaining maxinmum production of food and feed from each farm and ranch is to be completed this month.

"It is a simple word of appreciation and encouragement to the fighting units of the food front, the nation's farm families," B. F. Vance, chairman, Texas USDA War Board, said in explaining the purpose of the certificate. He pointed out that for three years in a row farm operators and their families have broken all production records with emphasis on the war-needed crops and meats.

Although working under handicaps, such as shortages of labor, machinery and transportation, goals of many commodities have been set still higher for 1943 than they were during 1942.

"In spite of these handicaps, if the weather is generously favorable, I believe Texas farmers and ranchers will reach new goals and break production records once more," the chairman said.

Epic Sea Battle In "Stand By For Action" At Cameron Sunday

Filmed in co-operation with the United States Navy, "Stand By For Action," Metro Goldwyn-Mayer saga of sea warfare with three stars. Robert Taylor, Charles Laughton and Brian Donlevy in the top roles, is the current attraction at the Cameron Theatre Sunday and Monday, May 9 and 10.

The story, an original by Commander Harvey S. Haislip, U. S. N. R., and R. C. Sherriff, portrays a brief but action-filled period in the career of a little old American distroyer, a four-stacker of World War 1 vintage on convoy duty in the Pacific in the present conflict.

The ship is recommissioned with a chief yeoman aboard who has lived on the vessel for twenty-six years, including World War days and the long period of inactivity which followed. It is his one and only love. The role is played by three-time Academy award winner, Walter Brennan.

Taylor is the society aide to a gruff admiral, Laughton, who commissions the ship and turns it over to its new commander, Donlevy, a rough but capable officer who has come up from the ranks, and then sends his tennis champion aide to sea as Donlevy's secod in command, much to the aide's surprise and distaste.

The cruise of the destroyer is eventful. It picks up two women and twenty babies from a torpedoed liner's lifeboat. Then each of the women gives birth to a baby aboard. Efforts of the crew in attending the young mothers and in caring for the cargo of twenty-two infants furnishes the lighter side of the epic, with Chill Wills, deserting his Western characterizations.

The tale then revolves around the development of a fine figihting officer out of Taylor, the playboy, under the patient guidance of Donlevy in a crucible of stirring action including attacks on the destroyer and its convoy by Japanese planes and a battleship. As a climax to the battle the destroyer sinks the battleship, saves the convoy, including Laughton's crippled flagship, and tows the admiral and his craft to port.

Robert Z. Leonard directed, in sharp contrast with his "Ziegfeld Girl" and "We Were Dancing."

Despite the fact that one of the co-authors of the story, Commander Haislip, is an expert on war craft, and Donlevy spent two years as a midshipman at Annapolis, the services of a regular naval officer, Lt.-Commander H. Don Smith, were procured as an extra precaution to guarantee authenticity to dialogue and scenes.

The story called for only three women and one of these was twenty-one-year-old Marilyn Maxwell, a farmer's daughter from Clarinda, Iowa, who had the experience, unusual even for Hollywood, of making screen love to Robert Taylor on the first day that she ever worked in pictures.

"Lost Canyon" At Milam Saturday Is New Western Thrill

The theme song for western productions these days is "Praise the Lord and Save the Ammunition," and it is very much in evidence in "Lost Canyon," the latest Hopalong Cassidy film starring Bill Boyd which Harry Sherman is presenting at the Milam Theatre thru United Artists release Friday and Saturday, May 7 and 8.

Since conservation of materials is one of the keynotes in America's fight for victory, it became necessary for Hollywood Western producers to incorporate new angles into their range stories.

A must from now on in Harry Sherman's popular Hopalong Cassidy series will be that the men of the range who battle outlaws will have to be better "marksmen." Instead of pouring out several rounds of ammunition as in the past, one, and at the most two shots must suffice to kill a single villian. Also, when a long shot is made no amunition will be used at all. Since a great deal of dust is kicked up by the thundering horses' hoofs, the gunpowder, which should be proof that a gun has been fired, becomes indistinguishably mixed with the flying dirt.

Also in line with the conservation program, the art of lassoing is coming back into popularity; roping outlaws instead of shooting it out with them will be the method used in the future. This roping process, of course, calls for more subtlety of action.

It looks as if Hollywood will have to pay more attention to the old adage "give a thief enough rope and he'll hang himself."

Colossal Technicolor "Forest Rangers" Is Success; Milam Sunday

Telling its thrilling love story in fiery Technicolors, Paramount's powerful romance of America's far-flung timberlines, "The Forest Rangers," will open Sunday at the Milam Theatre with Fred MacMurray, Paulette Goddard and Susan Hayward heading the star-studded cast. Others on the stellar list include Lynne Overman, Albert Dekker, Eugene Pallette, Regis Toomey and Rod Cameron.

Directed by George Marshall from a story by Thelma Strabel, author of "Reap the Wild Wind," this latest drama of the great outdoors glorifies the men of the U. S. Forest Service, the intrepid Rangers who guard one of the nation's most vital natural resources, our forests. Plentifully supplied with comedy and exciting adventure, "The Forest Rangers" is outstanding for its musical numbers, including the Hit Parade tune, "Jingle Jangle Jingle," by Frank Loesser and Joseph Lilley, and "Tall Grows the Timber," by Loesser and Frederick Hollander.

"The Forest Rangers" is one of those rare films that just had to be made in Technicolor to bring out the clorful and eye-filling timberland scenes and the thrilling forest fire sequences, said to be the most exciting and spectacular fire scenes ever filmed. Technicolor cameramen working with Rangers of the Forest Service, ranged over most of the Pacific slope to get actual fire shots.

Made with the full co-operation of the Forest Service and with Guerdon Ellis, Supervisor of Tehoe National Forest, as techical advisor, "The Forest Rangers" tells the story of District Ranger Don Stuart, played by Fred MacMurray. Don meets a society beauty from the East and marries her, thus starting a sequence of laughs, thrills and romantic situations that keep the film moving swiftly right down to the last flicker. It's a big picture, in every department—stars, background and story.

ARE YOU LOYAL TO UNCLE SAM? I AM!

The method of collection of the federal income tax should have been acted upon by the House before this reaches you. It is still too early to predict the result in regard to the forgiveness or remission of taxes already due the government, but I think that it is safe to assume that we will get an extension of the Victory Tax method of collection-at-the-source. It seems very clear that only by collecting taxes as the people earn will it be possible for the government to get its money or for the people to pay. Most of us who work for a fixed salary know from personal experience that it is much easier to pay an obligation weekly or monthly out of income than it is to allow it to accumulate into a large lump sum.

In the past most of our federal income taxes were collected from a small per cent of our people. Only those who made rather large incomes paid income taxes. Most of these people were engaged in business and in the first place could not know until the end of the year how much they had made or what tax obligation they owed. Gradually we increased their taxes until we now take approximately $160,000 from the man who makes $200,000 per year, and we leave only seven cents out of each dollar of income to the man who makes above a quarter of a million. Keeping these rates in mind, it is easy to see why we can't meet the needs of the government merely by raising the tax on the rich. If we took all of the income that we leave in the hands of the very rich today, it would not begin to meet the needs of the government. We must, therefore, take smaller amounts from a great number of citizens whose incomes are relatively small. Most of this great group find that they get their money by the week or the month. They can more conveniently pay by a deduction from their salaries. Of course, this does not apply to a farmer. Even though his income may be small, he earns it in the way the business man earns his, and he cannot know what profit he has made or what loss he has suffered until he can sell his crop and figure up his cost at the end of the year. The "collection-at-the-source" cannot, therefore, apply to most farming operations.

Another thing that should be considered in connection with the pending tax legislation is that if we adopt the "Ruml Plan" which the Republicans are proposing, we will have remitted some eight billion dollars of obligations now due the government, and as I see it, it will surely have an inflationary effect far greater than if we were to raise all farm prices to 110 per cent of parity. This money that would otherwise be paid to the government in taxes will naturally be added to the already excessive sums of money seeking to buy the steadily decreasing supply of civilian consumers' goods. Nor is this the worst feature of such a rebate. It will in the case of the largest tax payers allow them to double, triple and even multiply by ten their net income. Take the example of a man who had a taxable income of one million dollars in 1942. He would owe $880,000 in taxes. (The five percent Victory Tax applies only to 1943 income.) Therefore, such a tax payer would under existing laws have $120,000 left out of his million, and if his income remained stationary in 1943, he would have only $70,000 left at the end of this year (because he would be required to pay the Victory Tax of five per cent in addition to the other taxes he had been paying) but if he were relieved of his 1942 tax obligation (which he would otherwise have to pay in 1943,) he would have $70,000 plus $880,000 or net income in 1943 of $950,000. I know that some of the Republicans say that they would catch this with a "Winfall Tax," but why forgive the taxes in the first place if they are going back and collect them a second time? Each time we callect these taxes, it costs the government money. Why not make up our minds that we must pay every dollar we can in taxes. I think our people realize why the government must have this money and are willing to pay taxes. I hope the Congress is not afraid to levy the taxes needed.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"Adam and Fallen Man" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 9.

The Golden Text is: "As Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive." (I Cor. 15:22.)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them." (Genesis 1:27.)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Deity was satisfied with His work. How could He be otherwise, since the spirtual creation was the outgrowth, the emanation, of His infinite self-containment and immortal wisdom?" (page 519.)

New Ration Book to Be Mailed to American Consumers Very Soon

J. M. Boehner of the J. C. Penney Company, chairman of the Community Service Committee of the Office of Price Administration has issued the following concerning the Ration Book No. 3 which will be mailed to American consumers soon:

War Ration Book No. 3, which provides new stamps to replace those running out in existing books, will be distributed through the mails to more than 120,000,000 individuals beginning late in June and ending July 21.

The distribution of War Book No. 3 will be simplified, handled by mail instead of by registration at school sites. This book will replace War Ration Books No. 1 and 2, and is NOT intended to cover any new items not already rationed. OPA Administrator Brown says in this connection, "If the war makes any more rationing necessary, some time in the future you will be notified officially by your Government. In the meanwhile, step on rumors hard."

War Ration Book No. 3 itself combines "unit" stamps—already familiar under the sugar, coffee, and shoe programs—and "point" stamps, such as housewives have been using to buy canned goods, meats, and fats for several weeks past. There are eight pages in the new book. Four contain a single alphabet of brown point stamps in the usual 8, 5, 2 and 1 values, while each of the center four pages hold 48 unit stamps with each page identified by units of armament planes, guns, tanks and aircraft carriers.

65,000 WALK OUT IN COAL MINE TIE UP

The eyes of the nation were turned on Washington today as a show down loomed between President Roosevelt and John L. Lewis, American dictator who called out a strike of soft coal workers to tie up the war industries.

President Roosevelt on his return to Washington took up the challenge laid down by the strike and issued a satement in which he said he would use all powers under his authority to keep the nation under full war effort.

The President said if the coal miners did not return to their work by noon Saturday he would act.

Those who wished for a strong stand on the part of Roosevelt said he might act. Others remember past performances and the unbroken line of labor victories over the country at war.

In any case it seemed that the American people might well know by Saturday who is the stronger, the Labor Unions or the United States government.

The war was in the background. Even in Tunisia it had slowed down mainly because of a German counter attack that sent the British reeling back.

The British lost 23 bombers in a raid on Wilhelmshaven. Naples was also bombed. The Germans retaliated with bombings over England.

Bernice Jean Longmire of Galveston, formerly of Cameron, is visiting with relatives and friends for a few days.

Section of Jawbone Of Mastadon Brought In By Mrs. McClellan

A section of a jaw bone of a Mastadon was brought in recently by Mrs. Ben McClellan of Minerva Saturday a small fragment of the bone structure was brought in.

The jaw bone was found in a gravel pit on the McClellan farm near the juncture of Little River and San Gabriel River west of Minerva.

A tooth cavity and a tusk cavity are shown in this section of what appears to be an upper jaw. Milam county is rich in fossils.

The Mastadon, the Imperial Mammoth, both lived on this continent millions of years ago. They are now extinct but their fossil remains are found in a trail almost around the globe and many have been found in Milam county.

McKNIGHT-GUNNING

Mrs,. L. E. McKnight and Thomas Charner Gunning were married at the Cathedral in Dallas on Wednesday afternoon, Bishop Harry T. Moore reading the Episcopal service.

She holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Baylor University and a Master of Arts degree from the University of Texas. She has traveled extensively in the United States, Canada, Mexico and Europe.

Mr. Gunning, a prominent business man of El Paso, Texas, has also traveled extensively and is well known in business circles in Texas. The couple, after a ten day trip, will be at home in El Paso at the Paso del Norte Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. McIntosh have returned from a week's visit out in west Texas, and enjoyed a few days visit on their ranch while away.

Mrs. Woodrow Simmons, a former resident of Cameron, is the proud mother of a six pound and twelve ounce daughter, Martha Ann, born at 3:50 a. m. Tuesday the 20th of April at the Morenci, Arizone hospital. Mother and baby are doing fine.

TO ADDRESS NATION AT 9 P. M. SUNDAY

President Roosevelt early Saturday took over all coal mines in the anthracite area where workers had gone out on strike and instructed Harold L. Ickes, of the Department of Commerce as Fuel Administrator to guarantee operation.

The President at the same time announced that he will address the nation at 9 p. m. Central War Time, Sunday May 2, 1943.

Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson was ordered by the President to give the Department of Commerce all necessary military forces to guarantee operation of the mines and to protect miners who want to work.

John L. Lewis, in conference in New York, would make no comment on the action of the President.

Mr. Roosevelt appealed to the miners to return to work.

The President had won the first round of the fight. He came out of his corner fighting. His address will be between the rounds and from reports early Saturday it is indicated the President will have some very blunt things to say.

Speaking when action is needed may be a continuation of his policy of persuasion. To offend labor is bad politics. If the nation goes to hell that is considered a reasoable charge for wear and tear on Democracy.

Sensible Americans were agreed that the coal situation should never have reached this stage. If wage increases are granted they might as well have been given before the contract expired. The government is without authority to compel men to work. They CAN be put in the army and that would stop the strikes.

So far no blows have actually been struck. The test will be whether the government yields or the miners under John L. Lewis lose.

If every man, woman and child in the United States lays aside $100 the aggregate will be about $13,000,000,000 or the amount the Treasury must raise in its Second War Loan.

Joe Campbell of San Gabriel was a Cameron visitor Friday.

E. G. Stiles of Thorndale is in Cameron today on business.

The entire construction has been repainted. The bath house has been re-roofed and painted green and the interior has been refinished.

Not far away the rodeo pens and the grand stands have been given a coat of paint.

Under the bath houses where the machinery for water purification is located painting has been in progress for a week and early Friday Ralph Mitchell, Health Unit representative, made an inspection of the chemical plant used in treating and purifiying the water.

The plant is modern and sanitary. Mrs. N. J. Johnson will be responsible for the operation of the pool this season. Its opening will be welcome to visiting service men.

SWEET POTATO CROP GETS BIG PRICE BOOST

College Station—Floor prices on sweet potatoes grown under this year's Food for Freedom program were announced this week by the Texas USDA War Board.

Prices will be supported, if necessary, by the Food Distribution Administration, at $1.15 per bushel during the harvesting season from August through November and at $1.30 per bushel during December and January, the board explained.

During February, March and April, 1944, the support price will be $1.45 per bushel.

According to the War Board, these prices apply on U. S. No. 1 sweet potatoes packed in crates, baskets or hampers, FOB, carrier, in carload lots. For U. S. No. 2 sweet potatoes, containing 75 per cent or more U. S. No. 1 quality and size, the price support will be 15 cents per bushel below the U. S. No. 1 price.

"The support price on sweet potatoes doubtless will result in Texas producers reaching the acreage set for them." B. F. Vance, Chairman of the board said, and explained that growers who had been asked to produce sweet potatoes had expressed the opinion that attainment of goals would be contingent upon fair prices.

The state goal under this years' war production program recently was increased to 95,000 acres, which is 35,000 acres more than the original goal announced in December.

PREFERENCE VEGETABLES STRESSED FOR SUMMER

College Station.—Farmers growing summer and fall vegetables for the fresh market were reminded by the Texas USDA War Board to grow the kinds and varieties from which increases have been called.

Substantial increases are desired for these vegetables which will contribute most to the nutritive adequacy of wartime diets. Decreases in acreages are suggested for other vegetables, which although they add variety to the diet, contribute less nutritionally or involve disproportionate uses of labor and transportation.

If these adjustments are made, the resulting production probably can be harvested, packaged and transported to market, USDA officials perdict.

In the event labor, packaging materials, fertilizers or transportation become so short that the needs of all crops cannot be satisfied, first preference will be given to the vegetables for which increases in production are desired, the board explained.

Second preference will be extended to those vegetables for which production decreases are desired.

The order of preference of vegetables for the fresh market is as follows: Carrots, kale, snap beans, lima Beans, beets, sweet corn and tomatoes.

Other vegetables and their preference are: Cabbage, onions, spinach, green peas, asparagus, green peppers, cauliflower, eggplant, lettuce, cantaloupes, watermelons, celery and cucumbers.

Major P. T. Knies and First Lt Theo. F. Weiss of the Bryan Air Station were visitors in the city Monday.
